The screenshot shows the JCM Global Match website. At the top, there is a navigation bar with links: Home (circled in red), What is JCM, How to Use, Good Practice, Open Discussion, Invitation Salon, Specialty, FAQ, and Inquiry. Below the navigation is a banner image showing several people's hands stacked together. The text in the banner reads: JCM Global Match and A FREE matching platform for decarbonizing businesses!. Underneath the banner, there is a section titled Invitation Salon. The text in this section explains that an Invitation Salon is a closed chat room where users can communicate with other users while maintaining confidentiality. It also states that users can create their own Invitation Salon and invite others to have a discussion in a closed set-up. The text further notes that users don't have to send a matching request; they can simply send an invitation. Finally, it mentions that an invitee can leave a chat room after receiving an invitation if it's not of their interest. At the bottom of this section is a blue button labeled Create a new Invitation Salon.

The screenshot shows a dialog box titled Create an Invitation Salon. It has two main sections: Name (with a required asterisk) and Description. Below these is a Information section containing a rich text editor with a toolbar for font selection, size, bold, italic, underline, and other styling options. A large yellow arrow points from the 'Create a new Invitation Salon' button on the left towards the 'Name' field in the dialog box. At the bottom right of the dialog box is a Confirm button.
